		Outline of the Syllabus	English is a global language and its importance cannot be over looked. Learners from various sections come and ask why English has not been introduced in the curriculum of such reputed University. Individuals, irrespective of cast, creed and religion want to study English at higher level of their education as they foresee better job opportunities and career advancement. Those working with different institutions want to learn English at higher level also, as it impacts the use of vocabulary and in turn enhances the overall communication skills. Also, it broadens the way an individual perceives people, events and things and make him more accepting of different sensibilities and diverse cultures. In this background, considering the long pending demand to introduce English programme at M.A level, the University proposes to include M.A English in its academic curriculum.
